Diploma of Information Technology

I had a great lecturer and he was very accommodating during my few months so far at Charlton Brown. Classes are conducted through a great combination of in-person and online via Microsoft Teams which is very beneficial while I juggle work and studies – plus I really love their IT labs; they have really great equipment!

Zhang Jing
An effective teacher is one who directs, facilitates and manages the students' learning process. Da Teng is one of them. I like his flexible teaching style, positive belief in the ability to solve translating problems, willingness and motivation to listen and caring for students.

Rob Manz
I'm very happy with the service and education Charlton Brown provided! Alvin's teaching was fun, creative and entertaining. He likes to talk about trending topics in the class. He's also fast at answering any questions.

BRISBANE CAMPUS (ANN STREET) COURSE TRAINERS

Shaun Attwood

Shaun Attwood is an ICT Trainer with four years of experience teaching in the VET field predominately to international students. Shaun grew up with technology and has been interested in information technology ever since he was a young child and created his own computer programs. After leaving high school he became involved in creating computer networks in small office and home environments running his own company which provided clients with installation, maintenance and consulting services. After years of experience in this field he studied network engineering at both TAFE QLD and at QUT in Brisbane at the same time studying Cisco Certified Network Administration and recieving his CCNA 1 through to 4 certifications. He also holds a Microsoft Cloud fundamentals certification which he recieved while teaching Cloud Architecture to VET students. Since graduating from university he has worked for IBM and Ignite as a contractor and sub-contractor as well as working as an ICT consultant for various private firms, allowing him to work in a wide range of roles and responsibilites. In 2019 he started teaching in the VET industry and had taught hundreds of students in the time since, helping them all to reach their educational goals and enabling them to learn the skills needed to have a bright future in the ICT industry.
